Dear Parents/Guardians,

Founded in 1969, Community House is devoted to standing with Princeton families by providing tools for academic success and social-emotional wellness through programs that bolster early childhood literacy, promote the mastery of fundamental academic skills, and create early awareness of post-secondary opportunities for underserved youth.

The Community House High School Programs consist of our Community House After School Scholars Program, SAT Prep Program and Generation One Program for students in 9th-12th grade. During SAT Prep volunteers teach Math and English sessions and also provide one-on-one tutoring to help high school students develop standardized test-taking skills. Generation One focuses on helping students navigate the high school experience and prepare to launch into college. Generation One and Community House After School Scholars provide mentoring, academic tutoring, subject-specific study circles, writing workshops, field trips, college tours and other activities.

Attached you will find the Community House registration packet which includes a detailed program description, program application, and program schedule. Completed applications can be returned to Community House directly or submitted via email, mail, or fax.

If you would like to learn more about this exciting program for your middle school student, please contact Charlotte Collins at 609-258-0136 or cec1@princeton.edu. We look forward to seeing you and your family at Community House.

Best,

Charlotte Collins

Program Descriptions and Schedules

Generation One & Community House After School Scholars

These programs are dedicated to supporting high school students as they navigate high school and prepare to launch into college or other post-secondary opportunities. Generation One is focused on first generation students while Community House After School Scholars has a broader reach. Both programs designed to help ensure that students experience academic success throughout their four years in high school. The programs also help students prepare academically and emotionally for the transition to college. They provide mentoring, academic tutoring, subject-specific study circles, writing workshops, field trips, college tours and other activities.

Daily Schedule: Monday-Thursday 3pm-6pm
Occasional Evening Session from 6-8pm will be offered based on interest and tutor availability. Gen 1 students are also asked to attend bi-weekly in school meetings with PHS Staff.

SAT Prep

During the SAT Prep Program we take standardized testing information and teach on a more understandable and relatable level. During the SAT Prep Program volunteers teach Math and English sessions twice a week and also provide one-on-one tutoring to help high school students develop standardized test-taking skills. We also offer AP testing support for students currently enrolled in AP courses and students hoping to take AP courses and respective AP tests. In addition we offer ACT testing tutoring as well for students who prefer to or need to take the ACT in conjunction with or instead of the SAT.

SAT Prep Daily Schedule: Monday-Thursday 3pm-8pm by appointment
We will contact you to confirm your appointment(s) once we review your registration materials.
Students participating in the Community House High School Programs as well as extracurricular social activities affiliated with Community House are held to a high standard. In our efforts to promote academic achievement and foster well-rounded scholars, we expect students to actively contribute to their own learning and to exude positive behaviors and attitudes while participating in all Community House activities. To uphold these expectations, Community House participants and their parent/guardian are asked to read and sign the Community House after School Academy Behavior Policy.

Reinforcement of positive behavior is the preferred disciplinary technique. If negative behavior occurs, the student may be redirected to work alone temporarily, asked to sit quietly for a short period of time, or asked to work out the solution with another students and/or one of the Princeton University staff/tutors.

Community House cannot serve children who display chronically disruptive behavior. Disruptive behavior is defined as verbal or physical actions which may include, but are not limited to, behavior such as: physical or emotional harm to himself or peers or staff, persistent bullying, verbal harassment of peers or staff, unauthorized departure from the grounds of the program, ignoring or disobeying rules during the program, or behavior that requires constant attention from the staff.

To ensure fairness to all children, disruptive behavior will be handled through the following process:

1. First Offense: The student will be given a 20-minute time-out away from the activity at hand. The staff member in charge will speak with the student privately to determine the problem and explore solutions.

2. Second Offense: In the case of a second offense, and incident report will be completed by the students and the staff member. This report will be shown to the parent at pick-up for them to read and sign. A copy will be sent to the parent via the email address provided in registration materials and a copy will be kept in the Community House Director’s office.
3. Third Offense: For a third offense, an incident report will be completed by Community House staff and the Community House Director will contact the parent and schedule a meeting to discuss the problem and seek solutions in order for the student to continue with the program. If, after this meeting, the negative behaviors continue a final meeting will be necessary to discuss whether the student can remain in the High School Programs.

Please note that each behavioral situation is unique and Community House staff members reserve the right to make modifications to the behavior management policy as they see fit for a particular situation. These modifications may include different or additional consequences not specified in this policy. The Community House director has absolute discretion to interpret and apply any and all rules and provisions in this policy, in the manner that they believe to be correct. Nothing stated in this policy limits the Director’s authority to interpret and apply the rules. The Director reserves the right to amend these policies and procedures without prior notice for the safety and well being of everyone. Every effort will be made to notify students and parents/guardians of such changes.

By signing below you are confirming that you have read & reviewed this policy with your child and agree to the terms outlined in this policy.
