The University takes economics professor Burton H. Malkiel ’64 and Dorothy Bedford ’78 to plan celebrations for the University’s 250th anniversary and re-emphasize community service efforts as a centerpiece of the University’s community service efforts as a support and tie together campus and community service.

The University taps economics professor Burton H. Malkiel ’64 and Dorothy Bedford ’78 to plan celebrations for the University’s 250th anniversary and re-emphasize community service efforts as a centerpiece of the University’s community service efforts as a support and tie together campus and community service.

The Board of Trustees approves plans by Bedford and Malkiel to develop a new organization to support and tie together campus and community service efforts as a centerpiece of the University’s community service efforts as a support and tie together campus and community service.

John H. Pace, Jr. ’39 gives the first gift to establish a center for community service.

Princeton University President Harold T. Shapiro ’72 offers his thanks to all who contributed gifts in support.

Carl Ferenbach ’64, and Peter Ochs ’69, others John C. Bogle ’51, Harold T. Shapiro ’64 offers his staunch support as alumni, including among them Princeton University PresidentChristopher L. Eisgruber ’83.

Community House joins the Pace Center. Established by University President Christopher L. Eisgruber ’83.

Princeton University President Christopher L. Eisgruber ’83 signals a renewed commitment to service through campus-wide strategy. "What must we do to make service central to the mission of the University?"

The Pace Council for Civic Values (PCCV) a corps of civic engagement student ambassadors, takes shape.

The Pace Center strives to raise awareness about the service of all nations. ‘Princeton in the nation’s service and in the service of all nations.’

The Pace Center for Community Service is founded with Saul Olstein, former economics professor, and Burton H. Malkiel ’64.

The High Meadows Environmental Fellowship program begins to connect international environmental nonprofit organizations with funds from Ferenbach ’64.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Student Volunteer Council (SVC) joins the Pace Center. With a mission of "Everyone makes a difference," the SVC’s internship program for freshmen, gain greater support and resources to grow and thrive.

The Pace Center celebrates 15 years of helping Princeton students learn to do service well and have a positive impact in the community.

The Pace Center celebrates the service, leadership and social impact of its students and alumni partners with new events, awards and recognition.

The Guggenheim Internship in Criminal Justice program offers summer internships at New York City criminal justice nonprofit organizations.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Pace Center celebrates 15 years of helping Princeton students learn to do service well and have a positive impact in the community.

The Pace Center celebrates the service, leadership and social impact of its students and alumni partners with new events, awards and recognition.

The Guggenheim Internship in Criminal Justice program offers summer internships at New York City criminal justice nonprofit organizations.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Pace Center celebrates the service, leadership and social impact of its students and alumni partners with new events, awards and recognition.

The Guggenheim Internship in Criminal Justice program offers summer internships at New York City criminal justice nonprofit organizations.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Pace Center celebrates the service, leadership and social impact of its students and alumni partners with new events, awards and recognition.

The Guggenheim Internship in Criminal Justice program offers summer internships at New York City criminal justice nonprofit organizations.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Pace Center celebrates the service, leadership and social impact of its students and alumni partners with new events, awards and recognition.

The Guggenheim Internship in Criminal Justice program offers summer internships at New York City criminal justice nonprofit organizations.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Pace Center celebrates the service, leadership and social impact of its students and alumni partners with new events, awards and recognition.

The Guggenheim Internship in Criminal Justice program offers summer internships at New York City criminal justice nonprofit organizations.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Pace Center celebrates the service, leadership and social impact of its students and alumni partners with new events, awards and recognition.

The Guggenheim Internship in Criminal Justice program offers summer internships at New York City criminal justice nonprofit organizations.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate CriminalJustice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Pace Center celebrates the service, leadership and social impact of its students and alumni partners with new events, awards and recognition.

The Guggenheim Internship in Criminal Justice program offers summer internships at New York City criminal justice nonprofit organizations.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.

The Puttkammer Post-Graduate Criminal Justice Fellowship program is established, founded and generously funded by Charles W. Puttkammer ’56.